Proportion of all NIMH funded full−text publications that resulted in a hit from a regular−expression search for a set of data repositories. Point size reflects the number of papers that were searched in a given year

Proportion of all NIMH funded full−text publications that resulted in a hit from a regular−expression search for a set of data repositories. Each line represents a different repository. Only repositories who have at least .75% of papers with a hit on at least one year are shown.
